Sacred Waters: A Poetic Pilgrimage

Born from a creative collaboration between the team at Alila Villas Uluwatu and acclaimed poet Lang Leav, this experience invites guests to explore harmony through the lens of poetry and Balinese ritual.

Inspired by Tri Hita Karana, the Balinese belief in harmony between the divine, nature, and humankind, the journey unfolds with a traditional Melukat purification ceremony at Suranadhi Temple. Flowing spring water and sacred chants offer space to let go—an act of cleansing both literal and symbolic.

Afterward, guests are welcomed into a tranquil organic garden, where a simple breakfast is served beneath the trees. In this setting of calm and connection, you'll be invited to compose a poem—guided by prompts drawn from the day's experience.

After time spent in reflection and creativity, the experience concludes with a relaxed coastal lunch at Alila's vibrant sister property, Andaz Bali.

From Market to Village to Table: A Balinese Culinary Journey

Get to know the vibrant cuisine of Bali—and the chef within you—as you journey through a traditional Fishermen Village and local produce market, guided by our chef. Begin your day where the sea meets the soul of the island, meeting local fishermen who offer their freshest catch before it reaches distributors or the market, giving you the rare opportunity to select from the ocean’s bounty at its very source.

Our chef, the Kelian Adat (traditional leader) of the Fishermen Village, will gently encourage you to engage with the fishermen and market vendors, ask questions, and explore the rich diversity of island-grown fruits, vegetables, and seafood.

Back at the property, learn time-honored techniques to prepare your handpicked ingredients. Then, gather to share a meal that is not only deeply Balinese—but a reflection of your own journey. There’s no better way to connect with the spirit of the island than through its food, its people, and your own two hands.
